STATE OF MICHIGAN

GROUP THREE

MANAGER COMPETENCIES BEHAVIORALLY ANCHORED RATING SCALES

ADAPTABILITYCore Competency

Maintaining effectiveness when experiencing major changes in personal work tasks or the work environment; adjusting effectively to work within new work structures, processes, requirements or cultures.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Often resistant to changes; defends and continues to rely upon existing/status quo approaches and procedures. 	■ Effectively adjusts behavior in response to changing work environments and work processes	Excels in an environment of frequently changing work structures and processes.
Often does not effectively adapt behavior in response to current situational needs.	 Works well within an ambiguous situation. Adapts ideas and actions based on input from 	Identifies opportunities and attains a high level of performance or achievement within a newly changed situation or environment.
Shows resistance in adjusting to new work processes and task requirements.	 others. Adjusts personal working style and incorporates process improvements to meet the 	 Anticipates work changes and immediately adapts to the new situations and work requirements.
	needs of the situation, individual, department, or agency.	 Develops employees that are highly effective in responding to frequently changing work
	 Helps others to understand the reasons for change and to maintain composure during it. 	requirements and organizational structures.

COMMUNICATION CORE COMPETENCY

Clearly conveying and receiving information and ideas through a variety of media to individuals or groups in a manner that engages the audience, helps them understand and retain the message, and permits response and feedback from the listener.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Often has difficulty in succinctly stating or writing key points regarding an issue or 	Effective in both providing and receiving information and data.	■ Consistently articulates, in verbal and written form, otherwise complex ideas in a concise concern. Communications are frequently one-way; fails to process or incorporate input, feedback and response of message recipient. 	 Communications are generally clear and easy to understand. Factors in the issues and capabilities of the audience in communications. 	 and easy to understand manner. Highly persuasive in communications; presents ideas in a manner which actively engage the listener or reader.
 Communication is generally not clear or persuasive to the audience for which it is intended; relies on jargon or complex wording inappropriately. Demonstrates a lack of sensitivity when 	 Accurately assesses who/which groups should receive message, and respects the existing chain of command. Organizes messages to include appropriate 	■ Highly effective in active listening; can accurately restate the sender's message in different words and terms while also considering the recipient's preferences and communication style.
communicating with others.	introduction, key content and summary.	■ Excels in public speaking with the ability to effectively address a variety of groups and situations.

CUSTOMER FOCUS CORE COMPETENCY

Making customers and their needs a primary focus of one's actions; developing and sustaining productive customer relationships.

	Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
•	Does not consistently provide quality service to the customer; receives customer complaints.	■ Provides polite, accurate and timely information in response to customer requests; informs and educates customer regarding	 Consistently exceeds customer expectations by anticipating needs and proactively making recommendations.
_	Often fails to provide customer with essential and appropriate information in a timely fashion.	 available alternatives where they exist. Uses customer feedback to improve customer service. 	 Actively and frequently seeks feedback from customers to identify ways to continuously improve customer service.
_	Occasionally uses existing (or absence of specific) rules or procedures to justify avoiding service to customer groups.	 Explains difficult information in a manner focused on the customer's perspective and level of knowledge. 	 Establishes highly effective relationships of trust and collaboration with new and ongoing customers.
	Inflexible or unwilling to take appropriate risks to meet the needs of the customer. Does not understand or demonstrate to others	 Establishes positive relationships with internal and external customers. 	■ Works to eliminate barriers that interfere with providing outstanding customer service.
-	the Department's value of customer service. Does not hold others accountable for maintaining satisfactory levels of customer service.	 Effectively manages customers when deadlines can not be met; provides alternatives to help them meet their needs. Focuses on service and service quality within everyday activities and tasks. 	Fosters a customer-focused climate by constantly challenging peers and direct reports to "think like a customer" and provide internal and external customers with the highest levels of service.
		 Demonstrates to other persons or departments how the services of the organization can support their needs.
		Expresses the importance of maintaining a customer-focused mindset. Reminds peers and direct reports about how to treat and interact with customers.

DECISION MAKING CORE COMPETENCY

Identifying and understanding issues, problems, and opportunities; comparing data from different sources to draw conclusions; using effective approaches for choosing a course of action or developing appropriate solutions; taking action that is consistent with available facts, constraints, and probable consequences.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Decisions are not made based on logical thought and analysis. 	■ Gathers information from a variety of sources prior to making a decision.	Consistently demonstrates a pattern of quality decisions that reflect objective criteria and
 Sometimes fails to consider past/similar experiences or input of stakeholders in the decision making process. 	 Makes decisions based upon the application of available criteria to several viable alternatives. Analyzes factors which are relevant to the 	organizational needs. Systematically gathers quality research, and/or assembles key information which is not
■ Frequently makes decisions in a "vacuum" without gathering facts or utilizing others' expertise.	decision such as the current situation and the criticality of the decision and its impact, costs, resources, and stakeholders.	 immediately available but is essential to effective decision making. Actively involves others in the decision
Often fails to thoroughly think through the outcome of a decision; does not make logical inferences about the situation and outcome.	 Successfully conducts a cost/benefit analysis in the review of potential alternatives to a given decision. 	making process; fully utilizes others' expertise and range of resources for developing the best solutions.
 Quick to adopt a solution without evaluation of alternatives or potentially adverse consequences. 	 Clearly explains the rationale behind decisions that are made. Decisions are sound, logical, realistic, and 	 Makes successful decisions within short time frames or crisis situations that demonstrate an intelligent rationale, experience and judgement.
 Decisions are often not made in a timely manner. 	exhibit prudent risk taking.	 Convincingly demonstrates and defends the short-term and long-term impact of otherwise unpopular decisions.

INNOVATION CORE COMPETENCY

Generating innovative solutions in work situations; trying different and novel ways to deal with work problems and opportunities.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Resists new and better ways of solving problems or completing tasks. Rarely questions the efficiency of processes or makes recommendations for improvements. Discourages new ideas and approaches. Not usually able to produce fresh, relevant ideas in response to defined opportunities, problems, or situations. 	 Considers external and non-conventional practices and approaches in the development of alternatives. Seeks and is open to new approaches and alternatives to meet organizational goals and objectives. Integrates existing effective approaches with less conventional approaches to improve efficiency or productivity. Is willing to take risks associated with new approaches. 	 Highly effective in identifying and drawing out new ideas and concepts from individuals who are otherwise less creative or reluctant to consider innovative ideas or approaches. Develops highly creative alternatives to problems that address the shortcomings of more apparent or conventional alternatives. Creates an atmosphere where innovation is championed, rewarded, and expected of each individual; encourages calculated risk taking by others. Excels in seeking out information and applying new technology and practices to improve processes and generate unique solutions to emerging concerns.

TECHNICAL/PROFESSIONAL KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

CORE COMPETENCY

Possessing, acquiring, and maintaining the technical/professional expertise required to do the job effectively and to create customer solutions. Technical/professional expertise is demonstrated through problem solving, applying technical knowledge, and product and service management for the functional area in which one operates.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
■ Depth of expertise in any one area is not at the level required to consistently meet day-to-day	 Knowledgeable of own technical/professional area and service environment. 	 Solves complex technical problems using advanced technical/professional expertise.
needs. Provides information that is incorrect or incomplete; develops solutions that only partially meet business needs due to gaps in technical/professional knowledge. Knowledge in the various areas of job activities is limited. Views the job function and technical/professional contributions through a narrow perspective that is not closely linked to the organization's goals.	 Serves as a resource to others on technical/professional issues and problems. Actively guides others in interpreting and solving technical issues; accurately explains concepts so that the listener may understand and apply them effectively. Effectively applies technical/professional concepts within the field of work. Effectively relates the job function and technical/professional skills to create needed solutions for the organization. Actively supports continuous learning and keeps abreast of new developments within technical/professional area. 	 Identifies opportunities and generates recommendations for the development of new technical/professional applications, products, and services within the organization. Has in-depth understanding of the technical detail of one's field and continuously searches out best practices. Possesses deep knowledge of area of expertise and frequently applies this knowledge as a subject matter expert externally or for other areas of the organization.

PLANNING AND ORGANIZING WORK

MANAGING ACTIVITIES AND RESOURCES

Establishing courses of action for self and others to ensure that work is completed efficiently.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
■ Focuses exclusively on the task at the current moment; does not schedule beyond the immediate.	 Determines specific work tasks and available resources to ensure timely completion of most important work assignments. 	 Consistently completes projects utilizing minimal or optimal resources within or ahead of established timeframes.
 Has difficulty prioritizing actions; needs a great deal of direction around what to do and when. Does not consistently deliver results on time or within budget. Does not manage time well on everyday tasks; may focus on one task at the exclusion of others; does not monitor own progress effectively Does not effectively monitor the progress of the work activities of team members or subordinates. 	 Effectively prioritizes tasks based on their importance and time requirements. Monitors progress of work activities and modifies plans to address changing priorities and needs and develops sound contingency plans. Delivers results on time and within budget; does not over-promise or under-deliver. Utilizes a structured approach to project planning and management to meet objectives with available resources. Effectively implements project plans with subordinates to achieve results; monitors subordinate progress while retaining overall project responsibility. 	 Consistently develops comprehensive and integrated project activity plans based on sound techniques that support the achievement of organizational strategic needs. Excels in implementing project plans; effectively manages multiple projects to completion in highly challenging or changing situations. Anticipates the need for alternate courses of action and successfully implements contingencies in response to frequently changing demands; knows project status and risks at all times.

DELEGATING RESPONSIBILITY

MANAGING ACTIVITIES AND RESOURCES

Allocating decision-making authority and/or task responsibility to appropriate others to maximize the organization's and individual's effectiveness.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Is reluctant to assign work beyond tested resources. 	 Balances subordinate workloads and skill sets when assigning tasks. 	 Consistently and effectively assigns and utilizes appropriate staff and resources to complete
 Micro-manages projects; subordinates follow orders for most tasks and are not authorized to 	 Delegates activities to others to complete; monitors progress towards completion of the 	multiple projects successfully and within or ahead of schedule.
use own judgement and expertise.	work.	Delegates activities to grow staff capabilities; Delegates activities can be affectively.
Frequently does not provide adequate information when delegating.	Explains expected results and allows employees to utilize appropriate degree of	knows which activities can be effectively delegated to which staff.
 Does not explain expected outcomes for an assigned task. 	own judgement and knowledge to complete the work.	■ When assigning work, gives clear goals and objectives within parameters; empowers people to exercise own judgement and expertise to
 Assigns inappropriate tasks for the skill levels of subordinates. 	 Sets clear task or project completion expectations. 	complete the work.
 Does not effectively consider people's workloads and schedules when assigning tasks. 	 Assigns appropriate tasks for the skill levels of subordinates. 	 Assigns tasks to team members in a manner that maximizes the quality and quantity of work which is completed by the entire team.

BUILDING TRUST

MANAGING PEOPLE AND TEAMS

Interacting with others in a way that gives them confidence in one's intentions and those of the organization.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Does not treat others in a consistent and fair manner; "plays favorites" with some subordinates. 	 Consistently follows through on commitments and promises. 	 Consistently fulfills promises and commitments including those that may be unpopular or difficult.
 Does not routinely follow through on commitments. Doesn't take personal responsibility and places 	 Is trustworthy with confidential information. Is fair and consistent with staff; states rules as well as consequences for non-compliance to rules or requirements. 	Takes appropriate risks to convey directives and information back and forth between upper management and employees.
 blame when things go wrong. Does not keep confidential or personal information to self; shares inappropriate 	 Acknowledges the contribution of others and gives credit where due. 	■ Communicates openly with employees on difficult issues to clear up "mixed messages" employees may have received.
information (e.g., rumors, gossip).	 Communicates openly and honestly with employees, peers, and supervisors. 	 Openly accepts responsibility for setbacks and less successful endeavors by self or team;
	■ Is open and honest with staff; shares information with staff and acknowledges when he/she does not immediately have the answers to a problem or situation.	discusses how to amend the situation in the future, including modification of own efforts or actions.

DEVELOPING A SUCCESSFUL TEAM

MANAGING PEOPLE AND TEAMS

Using appropriate methods and a flexible interpersonal style to help develop a cohesive team; facilitating the completion of team goals.

ALIGNING PERFORMANCE FOR SUCCESS

MANAGING PEOPLE AND TEAMS

Focusing and guiding others in accomplishing work objectives.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations		High Performing
Needs Improvement Does not consistently emphasize the importance of high quality work; does not hold subordinates accountable for marginal quality work. Does not set clear expectations for defining work success. Does not obtain or provide adequate training or experiences for staff to accomplish work objectives, Does not effectively monitor progress of subordinates or team member actions resulting in wasted resources or re-work. Is not approachable to staff who have questions or seek advice on completing work effectively. Does not regularly provide feedback to staff on work performance; discusses performance primarily during the annual review.	Meets Expectations Sets performance objectives for the individual and/or the project; ensures people understand the assignment. Works with subordinates to generate performance goals that are specific, measurable, and time-bound; establishes an agreed upon mechanism for monitoring progress. Holds team members accountable for achieving results. Ensures that individuals have the proper training for the task at hand. Monitors performance and provides regular feedback in addition to the annual performance review. Provides the necessary tools for staff to accomplish work objectives; helps to eliminate obstacles or problems.	-	High Performing Sets high performance expectations for the individual or team; creates high levels of commitment and buy-in for results; holds others accountable for achieving the results. Rewards and recognizes others in ways to both intrinsically and extrinsically motivate them; identifies appropriate rewards and recognition that motivates others and consistently delivers it to maximize individual and team performance. Finds ways to leverage strengths of team members and manage limitations in order to deliver strong team results. Takes necessary risks and action to successfully find resources, training, tools, etc. to support staff needs; is creative with regard to obtaining additional resources. Actively coaches others and works with them to create developmental opportunities to
, , ,	Provides objective and insightful feedback on others' strengths and weaknesses.		expand their knowledge and skill level; provides highly insightful feedback and guidance for career development.

MANAGING CONFLICT

MANAGING PEOPLE AND TEAMS

Dealing effectively with others in antagonistic situations; using appropriate interpersonal styles and methods to reduce tension or conflict between two or more people.

Needs Improvement	Meets Expectations	High Performing
 Does not recognize when conflict is occurring or emotions are escalating; does not probe for interests of conflicting parties. Inappropriately avoids conflict; allows conflict to "fester" without bringing it out into the open and attempting to negotiate acceptable solutions. Defines only own interests; establishes own positions and biases rather than seeking common interests. Accepts or recommends acceptance of "win/lose" situations rather than seeking compromise or collaboration. Personalizes conflict; sometimes attacks people rather than issues. 	 Identifies that there is a problem or conflict occurring and takes steps to resolve it. Assesses when to get involved with the conflict and when to let parties resolve it without involvement. Recognizes different interests, viewpoints, or needs of others and allows them to express their views in a respectful manner. Recognizes potentially harmful or illegal (violent, dangerous, harassment, etc.) situations and takes appropriate actions. Assists parties to achieve mutually acceptable "win-win" solutions. 	 Highly skilled in seeing early warning signs of conflict and takes steps to prevent problems; gets to essence of the problem to resolve issues before they escalate to a conflict. Excels in transforming conflict into problem solving; insightfully diagnoses issues and develops effective solutions that are accepted by others. Creates an environment where differences of expression or opinion are valued; differences are used to achieve superior results. Uses positive and constructive techniques to help team members anticipate and effectively deal with pressures and interpersonal conflicts that may occur in the work environment.

FACILITATING CHANGE
LEADING CHANGE

Encouraging others to seek opportunities for different and innovative approaches to addressing problems and opportunities, facilitating the implementation and acceptance of change within the workplace.

BUILDING PARTNERSHIPS

LEADING CHANGE

Identifying opportunities and taking action to build strategic relationships between one's area and other areas, teams, departments, units, or organizations to help achieve business goals.

Needs Improvement		Meets Expectations		High Performing
•	Rarely goes outside of the work unit or organization to coordinate activities with others. Infrequently or poorly communicates with	•	Recognizes that other departments or groups can assist in goal attainment; seeks out relationships with these other areas to achieve work objectives.		Builds mutually beneficial working partnerships with other areas or work groups; understands how each party adds value to the partnership.
	other areas or departments. Focuses on own internal function rather than	•	Educates self on the functions and capabilities of other areas in the organization; stays	-	Proactively seeks and builds relationships with others both internally and externally.
	looking at the interfaces that surround the function.		knowledgeable of current activities of other work areas.	-	Establishes ongoing mutually beneficial partnerships with other organizational levels
•	Often does not follow through on commitments to other areas or units.		Maintains relationships with other work areas or departments.		and areas that deliver successful "win-win" results to each party.
•	Does little to maintain or strengthen existing work relationships with subordinates, peers, or	•	Follows through on commitments to others work groups or areas.	 Creates highly effective, mutually beneficial relationships with direct reports, peers, and management to achieve organization
	management.	•	Develops relationships with other employees and teams for improved communications and		objectives; others within the organization view
•	Does not look for or recognize opportunities to develop relationships within or outside the		effectiveness.		this manager as an important member of the management team.
	organization.			•	Proactively identifies, develops, and strengthens valuable relationships with other groups in the organization, and across other organizations to leverage results.